

Joshua Halpin

I'm very motivated to get my first part time job so that I can start pursuing my interest in telecommunications team leading. I want to work towards financial independence and to broaden my social network.

AVAILABILITY

EXPERIENCE

Extra-Curricular Activities:

Effective Communication: With in class presentations, I am required to communicate with a range of teachers, peers and community members I have to communicate in person, via email and social media.

Confident Presenter: as a course requirement I present my projects to teachers and peers I use various multi-media skills and tools to do this, such as PowerPoint & Google slides.

Adaptability: I can adapt my expectations to new situations or challenges. Recently, I was in a group of three for combat robotics, and my team members were unable to complete any tasks due to limited computer skills. Consequently, I adjusted my role to lead the group and teach teammates new skills and complete the project.

Patience: Participating in the multiverse challenge I was with a mixed ability group trying to achieve the same outcome I realised to do this I needed to be patient and help bring my whole team along for us to succeed.

Teamwork: I worked as a part of a five-person boccia team, assisting each member where I could, always trying to improve on my own skills too.

Focussed: I always ask questions and listen to feedback from my coaches/tutors to try and perform better next time.

2022/2023 In class activities

Role model: I am hard working and a good role model to younger students with maturity and am empathetic and supportive of others.

Friendly: I am always friendly and well-liked by my teachers, peers and am rewarded by seeing others succeed.
